STATE HIGHWAY COUNSEL TALKS FOR ROTARIANS

"Pennsylvania became great because those who built our Commonwealth sought first the kingdom of God, and as the Bible has promised, all these things were added."

Thus Thomas C. Evans, senior highway counsel for the Pennsylvania Department of Highways, explained the background of the state Monday evening in a Pennsylvania Week talk given to the local Rotary club. The meeting was held in the YWCA.

As an example of the faith of the founders, Evans pointed to the "state's great educational institutions, its colleges. The oldest of them were built by the churches. Gettysburg was established by the Lutherans, Villanova by the Catholics and the others by various faiths to train Christian men and women to do God's work. Now, I fear we think of them mostly as football teams. But if we wish Pennsylvania to continue great and increase in its wealth and abundance and might, we must once again look upon our (Please Turn to Page 3)

Warns Against Burning Leaves

Warnings were issued today by Burgess C. A. Heiges that prosecutions will follow unless residents discontinue the practice of burning leaves in streets and alleys, and bicyclists refrain from riding on pavements.

Borough ordinances prohibit both practices, according to Burgess Heiges, who pointed out that the burning of leaves serves to aid in the deterioration of road material.

Recent complaints of bicyclists using pavement have brought the warning against that practice.

Early Gifts Push Chest Fund Campaign Total To $3,000

Donations from the Gettysburg Lions club, the Lentz post of the American Legion and the Gettysburg high school faculty and pupils have sent the current Community Chest fund total to the $3,000 mark. Chairman Glenn Guise announced this morning.

The Lions gave $1,000; the Legion post, $400, and the check from the high school added $61.71 to the fund.

Other sums added represented early reports by solicitors from various parts of the community, including some initial returns from the business section.

Chairman Guise expects more complete returns on the house-to-house canvass by this evening with canvassers requested to make progress reports at the Chest headquarters by this evening.

Only a comparative few of the nearly 200 solicitors who are working in all parts of the town and the immediate rural vicinity have yet made any reports. Chairman Guise urged today that where convenient the solicitors turn in reports on the donations they have received to date so that the progress being made by the drive may be checked upon.

The campaign chairman said reports already received from solicitors indicate a generous response to the Chest Fund appeal. "The people seem to appreciate the opportunity to contribute to these worthy community organizations through a single gift or pledge rather than having solicitors make six separate calls upon them during the year as was done before the Community Chest was inaugurated in 1948," Chairman Guise stated.

The drive is scheduled to close next Monday. The goal is $19,900.

ander, and Glenn Minter. $400 To Chest Publicity, Paul L. Roy, G. Henry Roth, Carleton Poole, and Mahlon P. Hartzell, Jr.; auditing, George W. Boehner, Joseph Heiney, and Lee M. Hartman; donation, Paul L. Spangler, Attorney Donald M. Swope, Morris Gitlin, and G. Noel Flynn.

The post voted $400 for the Community Chest and $25 for Halloween parade prizes.

Plans to get out the vote on November 8 in connection with the amendment 1-A, permitting the payment of a bonus to World War II veterans, were outlined at the session.

Commander Fox asked for volunteers to help work at the polls, bring in veterans to vote and hand out literature urging citizens to vote for the measure. A letter was read from the state department commander stating that present plans call for 100,000 volunteer Legion workers at the polls.

Endorse Two Amendments
The post commander said the American Legion is seeking to have two amendments to the state constitution passed at the forthcoming election. Amendment 1-A is listed as "Shall article nine of the Constitution be amended by adding a new section authorizing the State to create additional bonded indebtedness to the amount of $500,000,000 for payment of a bonus to veterans?" The other amendment endorsed by the Legion is No. 3-A, "Shall Article eight of the Constitution of Pennsylvania be amended by adding a new section providing for absentee voting by bedridden or hospitalized war veterans?"

District Commander Wilber A. Geiselman told the group that "there seems to be a lot of opposition to amendment 1-A" adding that "hundreds of thousands of dollars have been put up to defeat this amendment. Who is putting up that money is not known, but it is known that the money is pouring into those organizations that oppose the amendment."

Accept 10 Members
Paul M. Rohrbach, chairman of the Legion's bonus committee, said more than 2,000 posters, buttons and leaflets urging passage of the amendment have been received from state headquarters for distribution through the county.

The new members were accepted by the post. They are Gordon Jones, John S. Kelly, William Proccaci, Clyde H. Phynoweth, and Robert E. Potter, all students at Gettysburg college; James R. Welshone, Keyser, W. Va.; Harry J. Hartzell, Biglerville R. 2; Norman Rager, Flinckburg, Md.; Warren J. Williams, Middle River, Md.; and Henry F. Yingling, Gettysburg R. 4.

Sixty-one attended Monday's session.

Bullet Coach Lauds Two Lehigh Stars

Two Lehigh university players, Gabriel and Morris, were lauded by Coach Henry T. Bream of the Gettysburg college football team, as the best players the Bullets have faced this season. The statement was made at a meeting of the Harrisburg Quarterbacks club Monday evening.

Gabriel's long runs and Morris' pass receiving were largely the reason for the Bullets' 33-20 setback here Saturday.

Also attending the meeting were Johnny Yovicin and Jack Shainline of the coaching staff, and Jim Hartzell, college publicity director.

Suitor Kills Girl And Then Suicides

Mont Clare, Pa., Oct. 18 (AP)—A widowed mother witnessed the slaying of her pretty brunette daughter by an unwanted suitor who then turned the gun on himself and fell dying across her body, Coroner W. J. Rushing reported.

The mother, Mrs. Margaret Shronk, told police Elmer Hallman, a merchant seaman, came to her home about dinner time last night.

During a quarrel with the mother and daughter, Evelyn Shronk, 23, Hallman drew a .32 caliber pistol and fired four bullets into Miss Shronk's body, police said, then turned the gun on himself. He died a short time later in Phoenixville hospital.

NOTRE DAME ON TOP IN AP POLL

New York, Oct. 18 (AP)—Notre Dame's super performance against a highly rated Tulane team last Saturday apparently has convinced most of the nation's football experts that the Irish belong in a class by themselves.

In contrast to last week, when Notre Dame barely won the No. 1 spot from Army, the country's sports editors and sportscasters voted the Irish a solid first choice today in the third weekly Associated Press poll.

Its been many years since a team has dominated an AP poll so completely. In all, the undefeated Irish attracted 1,745 points by their devastating 46-7 rout of the Green Wave of New Orleans.

Army, which received 58 first place votes a week ago, got only 10 this time despite its handy 54-14 romp over Harvard. Those ballots, however, together with numerous seconds, thirds and fourths, gave the Cadets 1,522 points to rank right behind Notre Dame and well in front of third place Minnesota with 1,370.

Others in the first ten with their votes included: Oklahoma, fourth, 1,171; California, fifth, 875; North Carolina, sixth, 856; Kentucky, seventh, 798; Cornell, eighth, 345; Rice, ninth, 166 and Texas, tenth, 136.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Oct. 18 (AP)—All we can say at the moment is that it's a good thing Frank Leahy got in there fast with a denial of that widely-published prediction that Notre Dame could lose seven games this season.

... Some day we'd like to see a good single-wing pro football club like the Steelers execute an attack conceived by Fritz Crisler and drilled by a guy like Leahy or Earl Blaik.

... So many golfers are expected to take shots at the 1949-50 winter tour that most tournaments will either have pre-qualifying tests or will use two courses for the early rounds.

... And wasn't it thoughtful of the PGA to bank a couple of December events so the boys can pick up Christmas shopping money? ... When Lou Little heard the customary remark: "Harvard will be good in November," Lou commented: "Harvard had better hurry up; November is almost here."

NATURE LOVER

When Clyde Smith, Indiana grid coach, recently stole a couple of hours from work to drive Mrs. Smith through the hill country for a look at the autumn foliage, he seemed somewhat preoccupied. ... Likely he was expecting to see a wolf behind every tree. ... Finally Mrs. S. rebuked him: "You look out the windows but you don't see trees; you see tacks and guards." ... "Yeah," mused Smitty, "I wish we had some that big—but not so green."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Detroit's Billy Evans, who figures Aaron Robinson still is good for a couple more years with the Tigers, says he hasn't been a good catching prospect anywhere, though he has done a lot of looking. ... Syracuse, N. Y., will be the scene of 59 college and pro basketball games this winter, which is a lot for a city of that size. ... Seven of the cowgirls now competing in the Madison Square Garden rodeo are listed to ride in the ladies' handicap at Rockingham party, November 1, and for the first time there will be mutual betting on one of the gals' races.

Burns To Death; Had Iron In Bed

Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 18 (AP)—Fire Chief Harry Miller said a 46-year-old woman was burned to death yesterday after taking an electric iron to bed to ward off chills.

According to Dr. Charles P. Stahr, deputy coroner, Mrs. Ella Anderson Harvey died of severe burns of the entire body.

Dr. Stahr said he was told the woman had been under treatment for some time for a heart ailment and that she may have been unconscious when the fire started. Firemen said they found the electric iron on the floor beside the bed. The cord was twisted in the burned mattress.

Philadelphia Gets Legion Convention

Harrisburg, Oct. 18 (AP)—Philadelphia will be host to the 1950 state convention of the American Legion next August. The Legion's executive committee accepted Philadelphia's invitation at a meeting here Saturday.

The committee also voted to award the Legion's distinguished service to Federal Judge Harold R. Medina, who presided at the trial of the 11 Communist leaders in New York.

A resolution adopted by the committee cited Judge Medina "for his courage, patience and restraint" at the long trial.

Joseph I. Finnerty, Philadelphia, was re-elected finance officer. Edward A. Linsky, also of Philadelphia, was re-named state adjutant for the 28th consecutive year.

FIVE KILLED IN BOMBER CRASH

Riverside, Calif., Oct. 18 (AP)—A B-26 light Air Force bomber, apparently lost in fog, crashed into high tension wires near here Sunday night, killing five persons.

Four of the bodies, one a civilian, were recovered from the wreckage. The aircraft, which did not burn, sprayed gasoline around the area, making it hazardous to search for bodies. Police said the body of a fifth man, known to be aboard, was not found but opined there was no chance he survived.

The bomber was en route from Williams Air Force base in Arizona to Long Beach, Calif., when it hit the 42,000-volt wires. It crashed 300 feet into a ravine in the hilly section.

The plane was due at Long Beach at 5:03 p. m., PST, but the wreckage was not discovered until 9:30 p. m., by power company crews seeking the cause of an electric black-out.

Names of victims were not disclosed pending the usual notification of next-of-kin.

The plane was on a routine training flight from its home base at Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls, Tex. It refueled at Williams.

CHINESE REDS SEIZE COAST ABOVE CANTON

By SPENCER MOOSA

Chungking, Oct. 18 (AP)—Communist amphibious troops completed Red control of the China coastline from Canton north today by seizing the old treaty port of Amoy.

(Chinese Communist newspapers in Hong Kong reported the Reds also had taken Swatow, another big port about 115 miles south of Amoy). In gloomy Chungking, the new Nationalist capital, President Li Tsung-jen called desperately for political reforms to spark new life in the dying government.

"We can still turn the tide against us without delay. If we renovate the government and renovate it without delay, 'If we don't, our position will be hopeless.'"

Li, speaking at a civic reception in his honor, blamed past setbacks on failure to reform the government. He charged anew that the Reds, under Soviet direction and leadership, intended to turn China into a Russian vassal state.

Loss of Amoy, after a long siege, was confirmed by southwest military headquarters on Formosa. The island city—just three miles off the Red held mainland—is 635 miles south of Shanghai and 293 miles north of Hong Kong.

The military spokesman said the Nationalist garrison retreated to nearby Kingmen Island. Only yesterday government sources declared the Red invaders were being "wiped out" after establishing a beachhead. Later, however, evacuation of the defense force was announced.

President Again Names Wallgren

Washington, Oct. 18 (AP)—President Truman today named former Gov. Mon C. Wallgren of Washington as a member of the Federal Power Commission.

The President, at the same time, nominated James M. Mead, former Democratic senator from New York, to be a member of the Federal Trade Commission.

Wallgren was appointed to succeed Leland S. Olds, whose nomination for a third term on the power commission was rejected by the Senate in one of its major rebuffs to the President. The term expires June 22, 1954.

State Deluged For Gas Tax Refunds

Harrisburg, Oct. 18 (AP)—Farmers by the thousands have deluged the commonwealth with requests for refunds of gasoline taxes allowed under a 1949 law.

The state Board of Finance and Revenue said some 12,000 requests already have been tabulated for the quarterly period ended Oct. 15. It added that many hundreds more poured in at deadline time and have not been totaled yet.

The law permits Pennsylvania's 178,000 farmers to receive refund of half of the five-cent state tax they pay on gasoline used in food production.

It was estimated when the law was signed that the refund cost might run as high as $1,500,000 annually, but the present application figures indicate it will be far less than that.

Mark Warnow, 47, Conductor, Expires

New York, Oct. 18 (AP)—Mark Warnow, 47, orchestra conductor of the Lucky Strike Hit Parade radio show for many years, died yesterday of a heart ailment.

Warnow died an hour after entering Polyclinic hospital for a check-up. He complained of feeling exhausted Sunday night after returning from Richmond, Va., where NBC's 493rd Hit Parade broadcast originated Saturday night.

A native of Russia, Warnow came to the United States at the age of five and began violin lessons two years later in New York.

Radio programs of which he was musical director included "March of Time," "All-Time Hit Parade," "Your Hit Parade," "We the People." He never used a baton, but directed his orchestras with a pencil.

BELL COMPANY RATES BOOSTED

Harrisburg, Oct. 18 (AP)—It will cost more to have a business or residential telephone in most parts of Pennsylvania beginning this Friday.

The Public Utility Commission late yesterday issued an order authorizing the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania to boost its rates $17,964,000 annually for its 1,750,000 subscribers throughout the state.

The company had asked for an increase of $25,000,000 but the commission unanimously agreed that the $17,964,000 boost would constitute a "fair and reasonable rate of return."

Not affected by the new rates, the company's first since 1924, are long distance toll charges.

The commission ordered the telephone company to submit new tariffs by this Thursday, listing new rates for subscribers to conform to the increase granted.

The application for the $25,000,000 increase, broadly, provided for a 77-cent monthly increase for residential service and a $4.02 for business telephones. E. D. Gillen, president of the Bell company, said in a statement that the increase granted "falls short of the company's financial requirements."

He also announced that following next week's meeting, members of Rotary will join with the Lions club for a fire prevention program.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Return of the Gold Diggers: Samuel J. Smith, Fred W. Kappes and James Mangen, three Gettysburg men who left here last April to dig gold for a mining company in Ontario, Canada, returned home Monday for the winter. . . They had a good time and made fair wages while they were gone.

A noticeable change in the men is that all are wearing full beards like the Frenchmen who inhabit that locality. They were in a wild country eight miles from a store and the nearest town was Sault Ste. Marie, 200 miles away. . . They left because the ground was too hard to dig for gold, but they will return as soon as operations can be commenced again next spring.

Marriage: Eckert-Myers, October 12, at Hanover, by Rev. M. J. Roth. John H. Eckert, of Cumberland township, to Miss Phoebe Myers, of Hamiltonban township.

Fair-Wingert, Oct. 12, at New Chester, by Rev. Cyrus E. Held. Hayes Fair to Miss Cora A. Wingert, both of Mountpleasant township.

Adams County's Apple Crop: From our correspondent at Bendersville we learn that the apple crop of that section exceeds any previous year's crop by many thousands of bushels. From Bendersville Station alone 30,000 bushels have already been shipped and sent to city markets. The prices range from $1.20 to $1.30 per barrel of three bushels. It is not an uncommon expression to hear that trees have produced from 40 to 60 bushels each.

End of Baseball Season: The playing season of the National league of Baseball clubs ended this week, with final records as follows:

Clubs	W.	L.	Pct.
Brooklyn	101	47	.682
Boston	95	57	.625
Philadelphia	94	58	.618
Baltimore	87	62	.584
St. Louis	84	67	.556
Cincinnati	83	67	.553
Pittsburgh	76	73	.510
Chicago	75	73	.507
Louisville	75	78	.490
New York	60	90	.400
Washington	54	98	.355
Cleveland	20	134	.130

The Chicago club is said to have made $20,000 on the season. The Philadelphia team is credited with earnings of $50,000. The Boston club has earnings of $60,000. St. Louis' profits are between $50,000 and $75,000. New York is said to be behind on the season.

Local Miscellany: Charles H. Wilson is placing a 35-horsepower boiler and 25-horsepower power engine in Hereter's mill, Highland township. S. S. Roth, miller.

Harvest your cabbage before the 31st and shut your shutters, for it will be Halloween.

A game of football was played on Nixon field last Friday afternoon between a team composed of town boys and preparatory students resulting in favor of the latter in a score of 22-0. The town team was captained by Sam Bushman, Jr., and the following were the players: Norman Swartz, Howard Menchey, George Troxell, Robert Rupp, Jr., Martin Roddy, Robert Adams, Norman Hoke, William McSherry and George Taylor. The town team played well considering that they had practiced but three evenings.

The colored folks of town are organizing a brass band and expect to make their appearance in about three months. Jacob Long is president.

A party of 85 young ladies, students at Wilson college, Chambersburg, arrived over the Reading Railroad Monday morning and spent the day on the Battlefield, returning at 4:35 p. m. They stopped at the Eagle Hotel and were shown over the field by Guide Minnigh.

Personal Mention: Mrs. P. M. Birkle, Mrs. E. Breidenbaugh, Mrs. H. C. Alleman, Miss Lillie McClean and Miss Annie Skelly attended the convention of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the West Pennsylvania Lutheran Synod which met at Greencastle this week. Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE KEY—UNITY

The greatest problems in life are not the snarly, complicated ones—but the simple ones, strange as it may seem. What is there complicated about good will, co-operation, and unity? That last, which perhaps is the key to all.

How often, when confronted with a problem, we overlook the obvious solution. Napoleon is famous in history as one of the greatest of military geniuses—yet the lines along which he won his victories were of the simplest in form and strategy. Common sense and a genius for understanding human nature were behind all his moves—until he got the idea that he was invincible. No man is that or ever will be. But the key to his military successes was largely unity of purpose.

All great organizations are ruled by unity of effort. That word "together" is a very important one. I like the term United Nations. If all nations would stand united for the good and happiness of all, we can look forward to universal peace without fear of its being defeated. Just imagine what would happen to the world if merely the Golden Rule were to be the one by which men and nations proceeded! But, you see, it's so simple that the world passes it by. People talk and fume, and get bitter over non-essentials, while millions starve or follow the leaders who promise most. The Golden Rule promises nothing but peace, and the settlement of all problems, for if you treat others as you would like to be treated, that would settle everything and the world would move on without fear—and happily.

The great principle behind Christianity is just as simple—"Love thy neighbor as thyself." Simple, and workable, too. But if you prefer bitterness, and fighting, then all unity is ruined. It's a question of choice—and the offer and opportunity are forever open!

We can all safely select this key of unity as the one that will easily unlock the door to peace, opportunity, happiness, and contentment of mind. People who work together get things done. Even in clean sport it is the same. The baseball team or football organization, working as one unit, is the conquering one.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Wake Up Different!"

DOUBLE TROUBLE

Chapter 24

He died there on the floor of Brad Morden's place. Jay rose. Then his hand swooped up Turk's six-shooter. He spun—and found himself staring down the muzzle of Ace's gun.

"Sorry, old-timer," the outlaw said without rancor. "I know how you feel about Turk. But no guns for you. Boss's orders. Hand it over, Jay. I wouldn't want to try shootin' it out of yore hand."

Jay silently handed it over. "Take him out and bury him boys. He was a good man. I think I'll go over to the cabin."

He went out, followed by his two silent guards, and walked through the dusk. He saw Miguel lounging in the doorway of Lucia's cabin, and there was sneering mockery in the death-dealing Mexican's eyes as he looked at Jay. Smoke was beginning to come from the kitchen pipe. Miguel's woman was cooking his supper.

Jay went inside and sat down. As for Peg Smith, he had gone straight to Morden's cabin and the two men had talked. The exterminator sat with a boot crossed over his knee, cigarette between fingers, his long shaggy locks down over his ears.

"So that's how it is eh? Twins!" "That's how it is, Peg." "I knowed I got him!" exclaimed the killer, self-satisfaction in his eyes. "I don't miss."

"Anyhow, you got his brother by mistake, too, but it all come out right in the end. That's why I let you come back to camp after Jim chased you out. I got a job for you. I'll take a problem off my hands an' let you square up for gettin' whacked over the head. Tomorrow some of the boys are takin' the sixty head an' readin' west with 'm. I'm doin' no hoss swappin' even for them Morgans. This is goin' to be a straight raid."

"Sounds good," exulted Smith. "It is good," admitted Brad Morden. "Only this is the haul of my life—the kind I've been waiting years to pull, and I'm not taking any chances on things goin' wrong. I don't trust Joe one inch. Jay either, for that matter. Them boys are too close. But Joe's too hot-tempered. Now you take his brother; he's cool an' got a head on him. So when we slip in after the herd we're goin' to take Jay with us. After his brother knocks out that guard we're goin' to substitute an' bring Joe back with us as a prisoner. You an' one of the other boys is goin' up to the house an' keep everbody under guard till daylight. They'll give us about ten hours' start, an' no hosses left on the ranch. You can finish off Jay later an' the breeze to catch up, an' then I'll turn Joe over to you."

"Why, I reckon that's fair enough. Brad. But how come Jim ain't in on this? He wouldn't be pullin' a double-cross, now would he? I kin take care of him sh'd you want." Brad Morden snorted. "Jim's goin' to be right there under yore guns to make it look good. That's why he finagled that going-away party at the ranch. I run the hoss-stealin' end of the outfit an' Jim is the brains who gits us outa trouble when the law ketches up, sabe? That's why I took him in as a full partner."

Jay paced the cabin restlessly, went out and chatted with the two guards sitting in tipped-back chairs, went inside again. Every minute dragged by like an hour.

Brad Morden came over and talked a bit, outlining plans for the big raid, and soon left. Six men came back from the slope back of the cabins, mattocks and shovels in their hands. Turk was under six feet of Texas earth, in an unmarked grave, his boots still on.

Darkness came down. From the cabin next door came staccato Spanish. Presently Miguel's voice rose higher and Lucia's came back sharp, defiant. Then came the spat of a hand against flesh, Lucia's scream, and the thresh of bodies and scuffling feet. Jay left the door in a bound, his muscles having acted automatically. Ace's chair crashed as he leaped up.

"Jay, you fool, come back here!" he bawled. "Keep yore nose outa somebody's else's—"

The words were lost as Jay shot in through the doorway to find Lucia in a corner, fendings off the snarling blows at her face, Miguel's snarling, dark visage above her. "You're my woman," he was snarling, and slapped her again. "I teach you to obey me—"

He half turned, and his jaw made a perfect target for Jay's looping right-hand smash. He felt pain go through his knuckles and Miguel's lithe body struck the wall and then bounced off as he thudded to the floor.

Jay turned to Lucia. She stood in the corner, a flush reddening her white face. "You come with me," he ordered.

She came without a word. "Now wait a minute, Jay," Ace protested. "You're buttin' in on something private."

"That's right, Ace," Jay answered coldly. "People shouldn't butt in on something private. Come, Lucia." (To be continued)

PA. TAKES OVER MORE BRIDGES

Harrisburg, Oct. 18 (P)—The commonwealth takes over two more privately-owned toll bridges today with a third already state property and a purchase price agreed to on a fourth.

The State Highways department last night announced that the state agreed to pay $385,000 for outstanding stock of the Minsi Trail toll bridge in Bethlehem. Earlier, the Clarks Ferry bridge over the Susquehanna river was turned over to the state for $538,204.

Ray F. Smock, highways secretary, was scheduled to pay $3,850,000 for the Harrisburg Market street toll bridge here today and later assume the title for the Eighth Street bridge in Allentown for $452,755. The state has set out to buy the last 10 toll bridges in the commonwealth. The Bethlehem agreement for the outstanding stock of the company, which has a cash surplus of about $115,000, was signed by a committee of stockholders, representing the Minsi Trail Bridge company, and Gov. TO WED TODAY

Sea Island, Ga., Oct. 18 (P)—A slender English actress with a long ancestry, Sarah Churchill, will be married here today to Antony Beauchamp, British photographer. The 34-year-old daughter of Britain's wartime prime minister, Winston Churchill, and Beauchamp made their announcement yesterday.

They stood amid the ruins of a monument to England's past glories, old Fort Frederica, and told newsmen that this was the climax to a week-long secret engagement. Both said their parents had been informed and approved. In fact, added Beauchamp, a specialist in portraits, he called on his prospective father-in-law before coming to America three weeks ago and received his permission to propose.

Both said they planned to pursue their separate careers after marriage. Miss Churchill has made plans to appear in "The Philadelphia Story" on a west coast tour this fall. Beauchamp has a portrait show scheduled to open in New York next month.

In any case, the marriage will bring together the children of two artists, one very active, the other retired. Statesman Churchill long ago became famous for the diligence with the commonwealth.

The Minsi Trail bridge was opened to traffic in 1914, connecting East Bethlehem with the industrial section on the south side of the Lehigh river.

Private Streams

Harrisburg, Oct. 18 (P)—The question of whether to stock fish near privately owned sections of streams Mon. was studied by the state Fish Commission.

The problem arose here over the week-end when the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's clubs adopted a resolution here demanding that the commission "adopt a policy that will permit the stocking of any portion of any stream where which he pursued his hobby of landscape painting, armed with brush and oils and armored in a smock and broad-brimmed hat.

the pressure created by public fishing requires it."

The resolution was sponsored by the federation's northeast division as the result of the commission's refusal to stock a 3.8-mile section of Mud Run in Hickory State Park, Carbon county.

"That's a tough problem up there," Charles A. French, commission executive director, said. "The policy of the commission has been to avoid stocking near private streams because many of the fish would go up or down the stream (into private areas) and not be available for public fishing."

Harrisburg, Oct. 17 (P)—The state game commission announced Mon. it has approved appointment of 3,000 deputy game protectors to help enforce state game laws. "An aggressive recruiting campaign is under way and our deputy force is already considerably increased," declared Executive Director Thomas D. Frye.

Philadelphia, Oct. 18 (P)—The Pennsylvania Supreme Court has ordered the Progressive party off the ballot for the November election in Allegheny county.

PRE-CIVIL WAR ENGLISH USED IN AFRICA JUNGLE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

One of the strange stories of our time has been unfolded by Dr. Lorenzo Dow Turner, Negro professor of English at Roosevelt college, Chicago, who has uncovered survivals of African culture among the quarter million Negroes inhabiting the Rice Islands off the coasts of South Carolina and Georgia.

These Negroes are descendants of slaves who were brought to America at the time of the earliest settlements. Some of those living on the islands never have been on the mainland or seen a white man at close range. They speak a language which includes many words brought by their ancestors from the jungles of Africa.

Dr. Turner found that some of the words in the Rice Island language had their origin in Liberia. I was particularly interested in this because in 1942 when I spent some time at Fisherman's Lake, Liberia, I was astonished to run into an American colloquialism dating back to slave days. It happened like this:

Just at the time of the American invasion of North Africa, November 7, I started to fly from London to the Middle East. Because the flight normally would take us near the scene of the fighting, the plane was diverted to Liberia. From there we crossed to Khartoum and then down the Nile Valley to Cairo. I got hung up in Fisherman's Lake, where there was an American military headquarters, for several days, and spent considerable time prowling about the neighboring jungles.

As you will recall, the state of Liberia grew out of the labors of the National Colonization Society of America, which was organized in 1816 to free American Negroes and colonize in Africa. Some 12,000 "American" Liberians now live in the republic and they are descendants of American slaves.

American Customs

Well, I was tramping about among some native huts in the jungle when I came across a native woman sitting in front of her home and spoke to her. I really didn't expect to get an answer, thinking that she wouldn't understand me, and was surprised when she replied in good American. I stopped to chat with her and during the conversation she employed a very old U. S. colloquialism, which led me to ask her where she learned it.

"My great grandparents were slaves in America," she replied, "and came here when the American settlement was made. I learned my

Poultry Pointers

By FREDERICK BLOCK

While we start heating our house to stay comfortable, it also is the best time to check the facilities of our birds. At above zero temperatures, well feathered chickens do not need heating facilities after they have reached the age of seven weeks as long as they have a good dry shelter and plenty of grain. Draft is an enemy of birds, and only the strongest ones can resist it for a long period of time. The importance about checking your birds' shelter is to make sure that drafts are prevented. After you check your poultry houses while weather is mild, do not hesitate to visit your birds at the first day of rough weather. Spend some additional time with them, and decide if you yourself would feel comfortable there. If you are afraid that you may have caught a cold, then you should not think that your birds are much less susceptible than you are! Their blood is about seven degrees hotter than yours. Colds are easier to prevent than to control. They are contagious and if they do not kill many birds they will reduce the egg production of layers, and lower the weight of broilers considerably.

Take roofing paper or any useful material which you may have on hand. Cover all cracks and draft-causing spots. Also check your roof for leaks. Should you detect cold-stricken birds take them out and dispose of them immediately. Disinfect your house, your feeders, and water utensils; the latter ought to be disinfected at least twice a day. In spite of the fact that there is no definite cure for colds, sodium sulfathiazole in the drinking water has proven very satisfactory; however it requires a veterinarian's prescription in this state.

AUTO INDUSTRY RUNNING SHORT ON STEEL STOCK

By DAVID J. WILKIE

Detroit, Oct. 18 (AP)—The nation's auto industry is operating on borrowed time as far as its steel supplies are concerned. Shutdowns of three weeks and more starting early next month are not unlikely.

This was the word from an authoritative source inside the industry today.

The car and truck makers had a four to six weeks inventory of steel when the steel strike began. But they have been eating deeply into these stocks and replacements have been cut off.

"Shutdowns Inevitable"

A top industry executive, who asked that he be not identified, said today: "An important thing that seems to be overlooked is that if we keep going and use up all the steel we have on hand it will take three or four weeks to store up enough more to permit resumption of car and truck output.

"Shutdowns of three weeks or more are inevitable for many of the car companies if steel does not start to come through again by next Monday."

Dwindling Rapidly

No one auto maker wants to admit his steel position is any worse than that of his competitors. But most car and truck companies, especially among the "big three" of General Motors, Chrysler and Ford, have been producing at record levels for many weeks. Most of the G-M and Chrysler division have been working overtime to complete their 1949 model runs.

Since the steel strike began more than two weeks ago, their stockpiles

Government Decides On Big, Final Effort For Settlement Of Steel, Coal Strikes

IF CHING FAILS, STRIKES TO GO UP TO PRESIDENT

By NORMAN WALKER

Washington, Oct. 18 (AP)—Government labor officials decided today on a big, final fling at trying for voluntary settlements in the steel and coal strikes.

It was strongly indicated that if Cyrus S. Ching, the Federal Mediation Service chief, fails in the various moves he has planned for this week, he will turn the two big strike problems over to President Truman as hopeless.

Then it will be up to Mr. Truman to decide if and when he wants to employ the emergency powers of the Taft-Hartley labor law, including strike-stopping court injunctions, or industry seizure under the Selective Service law.

To Meet In New York

As one step in his planned all-out drive to get strike settlements without more drastic government intervention, Ching arranged to meet in New York tomorrow with officials of the U. S. Steel corporation.

Ching said he wants "to get a better idea" from U. S. Steel "of what the position of the company is at this time in regard to the dispute."

The main stumbling block in the steel strike is the method of paying for worker pensions. Steel companies want workers to share the cost. Philip Murray's CIO Steelworkers union wants the employers to foot the whole bill.

No Progress In Coal

The steel firms and Murray are fairly well agreed that the industry will put up 10 cents an hour per worker for pension-insurance costs. The question now is whether the workers will put up an additional amount from their wages.

Meanwhile John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers union and coal operators were due to resume negotiations this afternoon at White Sulphur Springs and Bluefield, W. Va.

The coal talks have idled along for more than three months without a sign of progress. Ching was reported to feel that if nothing happens in the West Virginia negotiations in the next day or two he must make a try at egging the union and operators into more fruitful bargaining.

Lewis has said he wants a bigger pension-welfare fund and a shorter work week for his 380,000 mine workers, idle now for nearly a month.

Cold Shoulder

Meanwhile, Lewis' plan for his miners' union and nine AFL unions to put up a $2,500,000 weekly strike fund for Murray's steelworkers got a cold shoulder from AFL President William Green.

Green, a one-time union crony of both Lewis and Murray, said AFL

RARE OPERATION SAVES LIFE OF NEW-BORN BABE

Philadelphia, Oct. 18 (AP)—A rare operation, in which 88 per cent of a newborn baby's blood was replaced to save the child's life, was reported today by the Jefferson hospital.

The transfusion was given the tiny victim of a formerly fatal malady. The baby now has a "reasonable prospect" of normal, healthy life, the hospital said.

The baby boy was born a week ago to Mrs. Wanda Mussoline, 34-year-old wife of C. R. Mussoline, Hazleton, Pa., businessman.

The child is "growing normally" and each day that passes improves his chances for a full, normal life, one doctor said.

RH Factor Absent

The operation, while rare, is not without precedent.

The blood disease which made the operation necessary is a result of an absence of the mysterious "RH factor."

Doctors at the hospital described the "RH factor" as a substance in the blood of a human being. When it is present, they said, a person is said to be RH positive; when absent, the person is RH negative. In more than 99 per cent of all births, the RH factor presents no complication or danger.

But in the past it has almost always been fatal when the father was RH positive and the mother RH negative. Mussoline is RH positive, his wife RH negative.

Born On Oct. 10

Doctors who performed the operation prefer not to be identified by name. They give this history of the Mussoline case:

Mrs. Mussoline had four previous miscarriages. Early this year, after becoming pregnant for the fifth time, Mrs. Mussoline placed herself in the care of Jefferson hospital doctors.

With what they called extreme caution and good fortune, she was able to carry the child for eight and one-half months.

The boy was delivered by Caesarean section Oct. 10. He weighed six and one-half pounds and appeared normal and healthy. Within two hours, however, the child began to show signs of RH factor complications.

Had 24 Hours To Live

His breathing became difficult and stopped several times. He began to turn blue, although he is not what is known as a blue baby.

Analysis of the baby's blood disclosed anti-bodies inherited from his mother because of the RH difficulty were destroying his red blood cells.

Without special treatment, the doctors estimated the child could not live more than 24 hours.

That was when the transfusion began.

The body of a six and one-half pound child contains about 250 cubic centimeters—slightly more than one pint—of blood.

Through a connection made to the child's umbilical cord, small quantities of his blood were withdrawn and replaced alternately by fresh blood.

During the 90-minute operation

Urges Observance Of "Apple Week"

Harrisburg, Oct. 18 (AP)—Pennsylvanians were urged today by Gov.

more than a quart of blood was removed and the child received 600 cubic centimeters of fresh blood, which was RH negative.

Doctors said a child born of two RH negative parents will have RH negative blood and will have no difficulty for that reason. The same applies for two parents with RH positive blood and when the mother is RH positive and the father negative.

Do you really know your Sunoco Dealer?

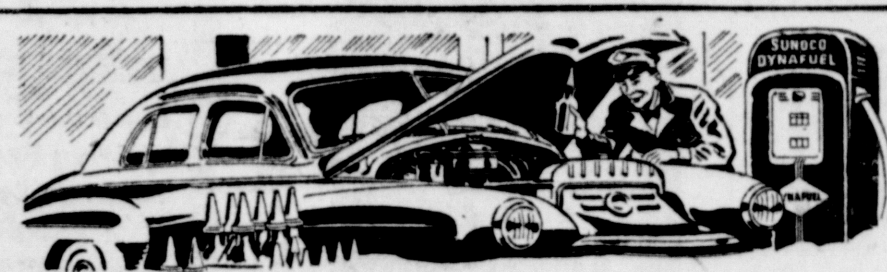

SURE, you know he's the man at the Sunoco Station—the friend you count on for good service day and night... but maybe you don't know all that it takes to make this possible. His work, his money and his future are in his business. He's one of over 6,500 men who choose to sell Sunoco Products over all others.

1 HE owns his own business and in 7 out of 10 cases, the station is his. If he rents from us, the rate he pays is in line with the rent other merchants in his community pay... and the type of facilities he operates. But whether he rents or owns his station, he uses his own money to stock it with the gasoline, oil, accessories and tools he needs to take care of your car.

2 HE has a definite responsibility to serve you and your neighbors. We strongly believe that a good dealer is a community asset and within a reasonable area he is our sole distributor. If you think his hours are long, so does he. But that's the business he's in—service to you from early morning to late at night.

3 HE sells what we both believe is the finest test gasoline on the highways. He also sells the motor oils that research and road tests prove work best for all driving. And, to satisfy all kinds of demands and pocketbooks, we package these oils in a variety of containers to fit the motorists' needs.

Our dealer contract does not prohibit the sale of competitive gasolines and motor oils. But, feeling that it is not possible for a dealer to endorse two competing items with equal enthusiasm, we have made it our policy to select those dealers who are enthusiastic about our products.

5 HE decides what hours to keep his station open, how many men he needs to do it and the pricing of merchandise so as to be competitive and give you what you want when you want it. We often make joint surveys to help him arrive at these decisions.

6 HE has found you like to do business at attractive stations where there are courteous attendants. He keeps his men in neat uniforms and sees that his place is clean and his service up-to-date.

4 HE fully realizes the advantages to himself and his customers of every Sunoco station offering the same lines of accessories and generally elects to buy these items from us rather than from other sources. We offer him a complete line of nationally advertised and competitively priced tires, batteries and accessories best fitted to meet your driving needs. But our contract does not prohibit his handling lines of his own choosing.

Emmitsburg 15 COMPLETE TENDERFOOT SCOUT TESTS

You may telephone your Emmitsburg and vicinity news to Miss Nancy Beagle, Emmitsburg 117.

Great progress has been made by the boys of Emmitsburg in the establishment of their new Scout Troop No. 284. Fifteen boys have completed their Tenderfoot requirements and have turned to aiding the ten or fifteen boys who have yet to pass this initial examination. Several of the boys are well on their way toward the higher ranks of scouting.

The troop committee of the scout troop will meet Thursday to complete the local arrangements for the investiture ceremony on Tuesday, November 18. The members of the troop plan to go on a hike Saturday at 10:30 a. m.

Mrs. William Rodgers has accepted a position as billing clerk in the office of the Cambridge Rubber company in Taneytown, Md.

W. B. Shank was the guest teacher on Sunday of the Brotherhood Bible class of the Elias Lutheran church. Next Sunday Dr. James Allison will be the teacher for the Sunday school service.

Move Into New Home
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Little moved on Friday from the property of Charles D. Gillilan, East Main street, to their newly constructed home south of town on Route 15, near the Emmitsburg high school.

The beginning of extra curricular activities signals the reorganization of COD at Saint Joseph's college. The Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, an organization enthusiastically supported by Pope Pius XII, aims this year to train students of the four classes to teach Sunday school in the vicinity. Classes for the prospective teachers are conducted bi-monthly by Sister Rosemary. Ability to simplify Christian Principles to a level of comprehension for the child is the primary objective of the study. Several seniors following the example of upperclassmen of former years are teaching Sunday school in the neighboring towns.

Pfc. Johnny Glass, who is stationed in Illinois, and Pfc. Robert Brake spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Glass of near Emmitsburg.

Sixteen members and guests attended the afternoon of games sponsored by the Woman's club which was held at the home of Miss Ann Codori recently.

Plan Halloween Dance
A Halloween dance will be held at St. Joseph's high school auditorium on Friday night, October 28. This dance will be sponsored by the Parent-Teachers' Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoffman, West Main street, are celebrating their birthdays this week. Mr. Hoffman's was yesterday and Mrs. Hoffman's will be on Thursday.

Under the newly elected president, Maebelle Carson, the young Lutherans are planning to renew Luther League activities for 1949-50. Elections of the general officers will be held in the near future.

The Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Hoffman, West Main street. There were approximately twelve members present at this meeting, the topic being on Alaska and India. Mrs. Lester Nester was in charge of the devotions and Mrs. Charles Hoffman the program for the evening.

The annual chicken and oyster supper of St. Joseph's church will be held in the cafeteria of St. Joseph's high school on Saturday, November 5.

Miss Lucy Bollinger spent the week-end in Hagerstown with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. David Milburn, and with friends in Martinsburg, W. Va.

Elkins Park, Pa., Oct. 18 (AP)—With a 38 caliber revolver lying nearby, the body of Charles A. Blessing, 72, an insurance broker, was found sprawled on a sofa of a second-floor sitting room by his doctor, Detective Sgt. John Lenox quoted the physician, Dr. Michael Dudich, as saying he had just arrived at the Blessing home on a call when he heard a shot. Investigation led to the discovery of Blessing's body.

Pennsylvania Week

Pa. Medical Achievements Are Highest In Country; A Pioneer In Medicine

By SUZANNE TREADWELL

Staff Assistant, Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania

The history of Pennsylvania medicine is a long and glorious one. Pennsylvanians may point with pride to the fact that this Commonwealth is generally regarded as the seat of American medicine. We can claim more "firsts" than any other state in the Union. As a matter of fact, our high standard of medical care exceeds that of any foreign country.

14,000 Physicians

Consider these facts: Pennsylvania alone contributed over 3,000 physicians to the armed services during World War II. There are over 14,000 doctors in Pennsylvania, the second largest number of doctors per state in the country. The progress of medical care in Pennsylvania has made it possible to obtain insurance against doctor bills for as little as the cost of a pack of cigarettes a day.

The state capital is the home of The Medical Service Association of Pennsylvania which recorded the astounding increase in enrollment last year of 171 per cent over the previous year. (This is Blue Shield prepayment sickness insurance.)

Six Noted Medical Schools

Pennsylvania has six medical schools—the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine; the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine; Temple University School of Medicine; Woman's Medical College of Medicine; Hahnemann Medical College and Jefferson Medical College. We have 356 hospitals—an average of five hospitals per county.

The Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania celebrated its 101st birthday last month and has over 10,500 members. Ten of the American Medical Association's 101 presidents have been Pennsylvanians. Pennsylvania physicians have increased the life expectancy of Pennsylvania residents from age 45 to age 67 in the last 50 years.

The following are among the "firsts" of which Pennsylvanians can be truly proud: The first degree of Doctor of Medicine conferred in America was presented on June 21, 1768 by the School of Medicine, College of Philadelphia.

The first woman medical missionary in the world, Dr. Clara Swain, was graduated from the Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania in 1869. The first hospital in America, the Pennsylvania Hospital, was established in Philadelphia in 1751.

The first permanent medical periodical in America was published in Philadelphia and called "The Philadelphia Journal of the Medical and Physical Sciences."

Pioneering in Medicine

The Female Medical College of Pennsylvania was established in 1850, the first such institution in the world. The name was changed to Woman's Medical College in 1867.

State Is First In Hospitals

By JOHN F. WORMAN

Executive Secretary, Hospital Association of Pennsylvania

Pennsylvania enjoys today a position of leadership in the field of hospitals which dates back to the years before the Revolution when what is recognized to be the first voluntary hospital in the United States was established in Philadelphia in 1751.

Public-spirited citizens, led by Dr. Thomas Bond and Benjamin Franklin, even then recognized the need for hospital facilities to care for ill citizens who could not stay at home. Incorporated as "The Contributors to the Pennsylvania Hospital," this first voluntary hospital in the United States is still in existence and is known as the Pennsylvania Hospital.

It is interesting to note that the present administrator of this hospital, John N. Hatfield, is now serving as president of the American Hospital Association, an organization of the hospitals of the United States and Canada.

Origin Of Phila. General Hospital
Space was set aside for hospital purposes at the Philadelphia Almshouse as early as 1729. This was a tax-supported institution and mostly offered hospital care to the indigent.

Heading the list of interesting events in Pennsylvania this month is the Pennsylvania National Horse Show at the Farm Show Building, Harrisburg, from October 19 to 26 (no Sunday show).

At Lancaster from the 18th to the 24th is the Industrial Products Show at the State Armory. Other interesting events include: October 12-22, South Lehigh Home Fair, Coopersburg; Hegin Township Community Fair, Hegin; October 21-22, Farmers' Day and Homecoming Celebration, Dillsburg; October "Flaming Follies" Festival, Bellefonte; October 25-26, State Grange Convention, Kane.

At Philadelphia on October 26 will take place two events of unusual interest—Navy Day, "Open House," at the Navy Yard, and the observance of the 200th anniversary of the birth of Goethe at the Academy of Music.

gent. This institution remains in use today and is now known as the Philadelphia General Hospital.

Since these early days before the Revolution, the number of hospitals in Pennsylvania has grown, until today there are more than 350 hospitals with over 100,000 beds. Voluntary non-profit associations predominate as to type of hospital ownership. Over 200 of Pennsylvania's hospitals are voluntary non-profit organizations. Church-affiliated are 38 hospitals. These non-profit hospitals account for about one-third of the hospital beds in Pennsylvania, most of which are in general hospitals caring for acute, short term cases.

Government hospitals, although fewer in number, represent almost two-thirds of the hospital beds in the State, and most of these beds are in the mental institutions.

Proprietary hospitals, less than 30 in number, account for but little more than 1,000 hospital beds in the State.

Next to the general hospital, the mental hospital is the second oldest in type in Pennsylvania. The first mental hospital in Pennsylvania, and still in existence today, was the Friends Hospital in Philadelphia, built in 1817.

Today most mental patients in Pennsylvania are cared for in our State hospitals. Under the leadership of Governor James H. Duff, these State mental hospitals have been undergoing a program of needed expansion and modernization.

When the average Pennsylvanian thinks of a hospital, he thinks of his community hospital, the voluntary general hospital. Here it is that he is most likely to go for care and treatment.

Improved Facilities
These community hospitals, after many years of building inactivity due to the war, are undergoing equally needed expansion and modernization. Federal aid is helping many in their building programs. Many are improving their facilities without such aid.

The net result, in any case, is going to better hospital facilities for the communities and citizens of Pennsylvania. With medical care advancing all the time, Pennsylvanians can look forward to their State's retention of leadership in the hospital and health field.

INFANT KILLED

Titusville, Pa., Oct. 18 (AP)—A two-month-old infant was killed in an auto wreck near here Sunday. The child's head was crushed against the dashboard by his mother's body. The baby was John J. Roberts, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roberts of Guy's Mill R. 3. State police said the Roberts car rammed a log pile at the road edge when the knee action assembly of the auto's axle broke.

Pennsylvania Week Local Chambers Of Commerce Keep Pace With Pa. Progress

Pennsylvania is apparently more Chamber of Commerce-conscious than any of her sister states, as it leads all others in the number of local Chamber organizations, according to the records of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce. There are 317 local Chamber organizations in Pennsylvania listed with the State Chamber, with the great majority of communities of 5,000 or more population, having some type of organized group working constantly for community betterment.

The usual activities of a local Chamber of Commerce fall under three general headings, Civic, Commercial and Industrial. However, more and more commercial organizations in Pennsylvania are giving attention to wide and varied types of activity, because of special advantages or opportunities offered locally for such promotions.

Some Chambers of Commerce in Pennsylvania are giving first consideration to tourist trade, conventions and the promotion of their recreational facilities. The tourist and convention program of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce, with headquarters in Stroudsburg, is an example of this type of activity.

"Pennsylvania Has Everything" More Chambers are taking advantage of opportunities afforded to promote local recreational facilities, the scenic beauty of the area, and points of historic interest. In this connection no state has more to offer the tourist or convention visitor for literally, "Pennsylvania Has Everything."

A number of local Chambers are now promoting annual special events that attract visitors from a wide area and gain for the community much favorable publicity. The Wellsboro Laurel Festival and the Somerset County Maple Festival at Meyersdale are examples of this type of annual promotion.

The Kane and Ligonier Valley Chambers are among those promoting skiing and other winter sports. A number of Chambers issue special pamphlets, brochures, and other releases on the fishing and game facilities in their area.

There is keener competition than ever before among local Chambers in Pennsylvania for convention business. Illustrating the point that conventions are profitable is the report of the Harrisburg Chamber, stating convention guests totaled 724,025 in 1948.

Pennsylvania is truly an ideal vacation land. It is a state of amazing contrasts and variety. It has natural beauty, scenic wonders, diversified recreation, and historic shrines by the score. It is encouraging to note that more and more local Chambers of Commerce are becoming conscious of the great advantages and opportunities of the state, convention and tourist-wise, and are doing something about it.

1,000 Homes Dark As Plane Hits Wires

Conshohocken, Pa., Oct. 18 (AP)—The pilot of a single-engine airplane landed safely at an airport after his machine flew through high-tension wires, snapping two lines and darkening about 1,000 homes.

The pilot, Stephen Fakete, of Phoenixville, Pa., said he was unaware of the accident until some time after he landed at the Potts-

MORE FIGURES IN BONUS FIGHT

Harrisburg, Oct. 18 (AP)—The battle for the $500,000,000 Pennsylvania veterans bonus issue entered its final three weeks Mon. with a new flood of statistics.

The veterans of foreign wars released figures it said would show that the state's 1,300,000 ex-service-men of World War II would spend 50 per cent of the payments for homes and 25 per cent of the remainder to pay off debts.

The state Chamber of Commerce, at the same time, pointed out that town airport.

Police Chief Walter Freas, of West Conshohocken, said the high tension wires—one carried 33,000 volts and the other 4,000 volts—apparently were cut by the plane's landing gear.

A spokesman for the Philadelphia Electric company said the accident blacked out a six-square mile area. Both sheared lines dangled in the Schuylkill river until repaired by a light company crew.

the ex-GI's already have received $1,500,000,000 in federal benefits.

The chamber says it is neutral in the battle while the VFW is openly campaigning for the bond issue which will be decided by the voters in the November 8 general election.

The proposal, largest bond issue in Commonwealth history, would give each veteran a maximum of $500 on the basis of $15 for each month spent overseas and $10 for each month in this country.

The VFW also issued a county breakdown showing the number of veterans in the 67 counties of the state and the amount of the bonus that would be distributed in each county.

MORRISON IN HOSPITAL

Abington, Pa., Oct. 18 (AP)—Charles M. Morrison, secretary of the Commonwealth, is in Abington Memorial hospital, for what his family says is a "physical checkup." Members of the family said he underwent a similar checkup about a year ago. He was brought to the hospital Sunday from his home in nearby Ivyland.

William Penn

knew a good thing when he saw it!

William Penn saw in Pennsylvania a land rich with possibilities. But even he never imagined the great strides Pennsylvania was to make through the years. Little did he dream in 1681 when he received the land charter that this was the first step in developing a great Pennsylvania which would —

- ... have a two billion-dollar farm industry ...
- ... produce more coke than Russia ...
- ... have more railroad mileage than New York and New Jersey combined ...
- ... mine almost all the anthracite coal in the nation ...
- ... have more miles of state highways than ten Northeastern states combined.
- ... produce nearly twice as much steel as Great Britain.
- ... lead the nation in more than 50 major industries.

Pennsylvania has many, many more achievements than the few above. It's time to take stock to see what can be done by Pennsylvanians ... by us ... to keep Pennsylvania out in front.

During Pennsylvania Week, see what YOU can do to bring more business ... more people to our own area. That's what Pennsylvania Week is for — and every week of the year, for that matter.

October 24 — the last day in Pennsylvania Week — is William Penn's birthday. During Pennsylvania Week, tell someone about the "good thing" which William Penn founded 268 years ago ... and help keep your Pennsylvania growing for a greater tomorrow.

It's your
